Arabs Call Strike, Violence Mounts

JERUSALEM, Dec. 1 (AP)—The Arab higher executive today called for a three-day general strike of Arabs throughout the Holy Land, beginning tomorrow, to protest the United Nations decision to partition Palestine which touched off a week-end wave of violence that claimed the lives of at least seven Jews.

The executive committee urged Arabs to intensify their boycott of Jewish goods and labeled any association with Jews high treason and a crime against country and religion. The committee termed Nov. 29—when the UN voted for partition—a day of mourning and tyranny.

JEWIS MANHANDLED

Police patrols, meanwhile, were strengthened throughout Jerusalem in an effort to prevent further communal bloodshed. Jews were warned to keep away from Arab quarters, and Arabs were warned away from Jewish areas.

Despite police precautions, a mob gathered in mid-morning at the Jaffa gate leading to the old city of Jerusalem, stoned a Jewish bus and manhandled a number of Jewish pedestrians.

First signs of Arab violence developed yesterday when six Jews were killed and 16 others wounded as buses were riddled by gunfire and streets were raked by shots in Jaffa.

Five Jews lost their lives and 14 were wounded, eight seriously, in two machine-gun grenade attacks on buses traveling the Petah Tiqva road southeast of Tel Aviv.

Another Jew was shot to death in the Arab city of Jaffa, near the Tel Aviv municipal boundary.

MORTALLY WOUNDED

Still another was mortally wounded in an attack on a bus near Ramle.

The driver of the first bus, in which four passengers lost their lives, said three Arabs opened fire from an orange grove after two other Arabs stood in the road to halt the vehicle. Eight Jews were wounded.

Another bus passing the same spot a half hour later was attacked by gunfire and grenades, and one Jewish woman was killed. Six other passengers were injured.

Attacks on eight other buses were reported last night—seven in Haifa and one in Jerusalem. An Arab policeman was wounded in Haifa when he investigated one of the attacks.

16 ARABS WOUNDED

At Acre prison in northern Palestine, 16 Arabs were wounded slightly when guards opened fire on Arab prisoners attacking Jewish inmates.

Near Ramle two Jews were wounded when their car was fired upon.

Reliable Jewish informants said Hagana, Jewish underground army estimated to have between 50,000 and 70,000 members, called for mobilization of all men and women from 17 to 35 beginning Dec. 5 for special security ranks. Hagana also was reported to have called for all men 25 to 45 to enlist for home guard duty.

WMEX TONIGHT 7:30

CAIRO, Dec. 1 (AP)—Thousands of Arab sympathizers, demonstrating against the partitioning of Palestine, roamed Cairo's streets today shouting anti-American and anti-Russian slogans and chanting "Give Us Arms."

Police followed the demonstrators closely in trucks to preserve order and no violence had been reported up to midday. Most Jewish shops were closed, however, and Jews kept off the streets as much as possible.

At least four major demonstrations took place in different quarters of Cairo.

At one time a throng gathered before the American University, crying "Down With The United States," "Down With The American University" and "Egypt For Palestine."

STUDENTS STRIKE

Palestinian students at the University began a three-day strike in protest against the United Nations decision to partition the Holy Land.

One throng of 1000 students demonstrated for 15 minutes in the square in front of Abdine Palace before being dispersed. Some of the students cried invective against the Jews, shouting "The Jews Are The Dogs Of The World" and "A Piaster (about six cents) For A Jew."

Dispatches from Damascus, meanwhile, told of serious rioting in the Syrian capital, where four persons were reported killed during a raid on the Soviet Cultural Center and Communist headquarters.

U. S. LEGATION STONED

The Damascus demonstrators also stoned the American legation, ripped down the American flag and set fire to three automobiles outside the building. Several windows were broken at the legation, shutters were ripped down and electric lights and typewriters were damaged before the rioters were driven off by policemen and firemen.

The American staff was not in the building at the time.

In Beirut, Lebanon, strikes were declared called at all schools including the American University. Students demonstrated throughout the day, shouting: "Palestine is Arab!"

Report British Move to Keep Palestine Base

LONDON, Dec. 1 (AP)—Speculation arose today that King Abdullah might seek to incorporate Arab Palestine into Trans-Jordan and, as a consequence of British support, might give Britain rights to bases in the port of Jaffa, Palestine.

An authoritative source said Britain is discussing with Abdullah's kingdom the possibility that its Arab legion might police the Arab part of partitioned Palestine after Britain laws down its League of Nations mandate over the Holy Land. The British withdrawal is scheduled for before Aug. 1.

The Arab Legion, according to the Statesmen's Year book, includes 8000 men, comprising military, police and prisons forces.

Formations of the Arab Legion—already on service in Palestine—recently were redeployed to strategic positions in the projected Arab area. A strong force has been sent to Jaffa, where for years British troops had been responsible for peace.

Meanwhile, a Colonial Office spokesman said the exact date for surrender of the mandate had not been determined.

"The mandate will end the day we surrender it," he said, adding that British forces still in Palestine then would "go into their shells" and take no further part.

PARIS GENDARMES SEARCH SUSPECTED COMMUNISTS Seek Hidden Arms As Government Seizes Red Paper

Red-Inspired Strike Halts Paris Subway

PARIS, Dec. 1 (AP)—The entire Paris subway system was halted shortly after noon today by an electric power shut-off throughout the country on orders of the light and power union as the National Assembly debated new anti-strike emergency measures.

Thousands of persons were stranded by the shutdown, which the ministry of industrial production finally announced had become 100 per cent effective after it had struggled throughout the morning to keep a few trains moving.

The power strike was called in a country-wide attempt to halt all industry and force Premier Schuman's week-old coalition cabinet to accede to the wage demands of the Communist-dominated General Confederation of Labor (CGT).

TUMULT IN ASSEMBLY

Schuman, who won the National Assembly's approval last night of his decision to call up 80,000 more reservists to maintain order in France, went before the Assembly again today to seek approval of the remainder of his emergency measures.

Communist members of the Assembly immediately began a determined attack upon the government's program in an effort to modify the curbs sought by the Premier.

The session soon became tumultuous as the Communist benches interrupted government speakers with catcalls and exchanged violent verbal sallies with rightist members.

The Assembly session was suspended for two hours at 1 p. m. when the tumult grew so loud that neither the chairman nor the speakers could be heard.

Approval of the troop call came as police, reinforced by troops, fought scattered disorders throughout the country.

Saboteurs derailed the Paris-Geneva express near Bour-En-Bresse, injuring one person. In St. Brieuc four hand grenades were thrown at Communist party headquarters, but no casualties were reported.

'Stalled' Car Pair In $300 Holdup

Two youths who played on the sympathy of Charles Marathas, Norwood salesman, by pretending they were having trouble with their auto, held him up and robbed him of $300 today on the Boston-Providence highway on the outskirts of Norwood.

Marathas told police he was driving in the direction of Providence when he was flagged by the pair, standing beside a parked car. They asked for assistance, and he stepped from his car.

As he approached them, he said, one of them drew a gun and informed him it was a holdup. They took the $300 from his pocket, jumped into their car and fled.

C. G. Flies Blood 400 Miles to Liner

How a heroic crew of Coast Guard fliers and seamen in a tiny boat tossing on the North Atlantic combined to transfer life-giving plasma to an ocean liner was told today by air-sea rescue headquarters of the Coast Guard here.

Heroes of the mercy dash were Lt. William Morrill of the Salem Air Base and fellow crewmen on a Catalina flying boat, and a ship's boat crew from the Holland-American liner Nieuw Amsterdam.

The vessel, making a fast westward crossing, was 400 miles southeast of Newfoundland when its surgeon flashed an urgent radio appeal for 10 containers of plasma and three of blood. Nature of the illness aboard was not immediately learned.

Lt. Morrill was on duty at the Argentia Air Base in Newfoundland, closest base to the liner, and doctors there located enough blood and plasma in the sick bay to fill the order.

As dawn broke, the big flying boat took off from Argentia and in three hours had located the liner as it raced toward the Maine coast, due to dock tomorrow in New York.

The plane circled low and three bundles holding the containers were dropped into the sea ahead of the ship. Each parcel was securely bound and equipped with flotation gear.

The liner halted, lowered a boat and the sailors rowed through the heaving seas, unable to see the packages, but directed by officers standing on the liner's bridge.

The plane swung once around the racing liner in a farewell salute, as passengers and crew lined the decks and waved their thanks. It returned in another three hours to Argentia, to find that a radio message from the master of the New Amsterdam had already arrived:

Addressed to Commanding Officer, Argentia, it read:

"Please accept our sincere thanks for your great help and extend this thanks to the captain and crew of your plane. Through their skillful maneuvering, for which passengers and crew had the greatest admiration, we succeeded in shipping all three bundles within shortest possible time."

Jailed Vets' Letters Tell Curley of Woe

Mayor Curley announced today he had received hundreds of letters and telegrams from friends and relatives of veterans who had been sent to federal penitentiaries for long terms for minor offenses in service.

He asserted that at least 100,000 former GIs were confined in the nation's 27 federal penitentiaries, branded and treated as felons although the great majority of them had been sentenced for minor misdemeanors.

He cited one letter he had received, although he declined to publish it in order to protect the writer and principal in the case, as typical of the harsh treatment meted out to GI offenders.

The prisoner in this case, he said, was a former Air Force officer, several times decorated, who had served on 49 combat missions with his bombardment squadron over Africa, Sicily and Italy.

"In Italy," Curley said, "he fell in love with a girl and sought to marry her, but his request was denied five times by superiors. When the war ended, his unit was ordered back to the United States to be deactivated."

"Again he was rejected in an application to marry and also was unsuccessful in a plea for a transfer. Feeling the war was over and he was being sent back to become a civilian, he allowed his unit to go without him and married the girl."

"The next year, he reported himself to military authorities feeling he had not deserted nor refused to fight. To his amazement, he was court-martialed and sentenced to a long term, branded as a felon because he sought only to marry the girl of his choice."

Maine Murder Indicates Girl As Accomplice

WISCASSET, Me., Dec. 1—Search for the slayers of a Rockland minister's son turned today to a check of missing girls in this state as authorities uncovered indications that a young woman might be involved in the hitch-hike slaying.

Victim was Rene Browne, 28, a telephone company lineman and roomer at a Rockland lodging house, who was killed Thanksgiving Eve as he drove to Auburn to meet his fiancée, Miss Lucille LaVoie. He had arranged to drive with the girl to Portland to spend the holiday with his mother and sister there.

He was killed by three .32-caliber bullets fired from a pistol into his back at close range, but not closer than four feet, the medical authorities asserted.

Sheriff Herbert Pinkham said Browne's car has not yet been recovered, and almost certainly he was shot by someone he offered a ride on U. S. Highway 1, while driving south. His body was found by hunters in bushes off the highway.

The sheriff theorized a woman might have been given a ride along with a man hitchhiker, which would explain their presence in the rear seat of the auto.

If a lone hiker had been picked up by Browne, he concluded, the stranger would have sat in the front seat with the driver and had no opportunity to shoot him from behind.

Hub Teachers Hold Pay Parley

Boston school teachers will meet today at Tremont Temple to act on a reported recommendation that they seek a $7,500,000 appropriation from the Legislature for pay boosts.

The recommendation was drawn up at a secret meeting of alliance delegates called by the organization's president, John Broughman, it was reported.

The delegates agreed to a pay scale calling for flat $1200 pay raises for men and women high school teachers and vice-principals, it was reported. This would include the $400, $600 and $800 raises granted by the Legislature

Long Trains Cause So. Station Delays

Railroad service into the South Station was delayed for as much as an hour today as extra trains, crowded with students and others returning from Thanksgiving holidays, created switching difficulties in the yards.

Boston Terminal Co. officials explained that many of the incoming trains and extra section were longer than usual. Since the terminal facilities are insufficient to handle extra-long trains, it became necessary to break up the trains, causing switching delays in the yards outside the station.

The New Haven road put on 29 extra sections, many of them longer than usual, to accommodate the large throngs.

MRS. BLERIOT LAMARRE OF DAYTON, OHIO
Waits Call to Testify Before Federal Grand Jury

Mrs. Lamarre on Meyers Jury List

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1 (AP)—The woman who branded as "lies, all lies" Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers' claim that she was his "girl friend" even though married awaits her chance this week to repeat the denial under oath.

Mrs. Bleriot H. Lamarre, her husband and her brother, T. E. Readnow, disclosed at Dayton, O., they had been subpoenaed to appear today before the federal grand jury which took up where a Senate committee left off with the retired Air Force officer.

Dist. Atty. George Morris Fay declined to say in advance, however, just when the trio would be called.

Mrs. Lamarre was not a witness during sensation-packed Senate hearings, but her husband lashed back at Meyers' testimony by calling him a "snake."

INDICTMENT MYSTERY

Lamarre and Readnow had testified earlier they were "dummy" officers of Meyers' Aviation Electric Co. at Dayton and that the wartime purchasing officer for the air forces netted some $150,000 from the concern.

Fay would not say what type of indictment is being sought here against Meyers, but Atty.

Gen. Clark has promised to press charges of perjury, income tax evasion and war frauds.

A second congressional group, a House expenditures subcommittee, prepared meanwhile to lay the foundation for a somewhat similar inquiry into contracts let to other companies.

OPEN HEARINGS SET

Chairman Bender (R.) of Ohio, announced that his committee would meet behind closed doors today to consider information Consolidated Vultee Aircraft of San Diego received $7,000,000 in Navy funds for 1100 planes of which only 180 were delivered.

Bender's committee, however, already has scheduled public hearings beginning tomorrow into wartime operations of the Reconstruction Finance Corp.

These hearings, involving what Bender described as "serious charges," that RFC's "weaknesses and errors have cost American taxpayers millions of dollars," are due to continue until nearly Christmas.

Airliner Crash Death Toll Now 7

SEATTLE, Dec. 1 (AP)—Seven persons were dead and 10 others critically injured today following a fiery crash in which a four-engined Alaska Airlines transport overshot a runway at the Seattle-Tacoma Airport and smashed a passing automobile.

Twenty-six of the 28 aboard the big plane scrambled from door and emergency exits or were pulled from the flames by rescuers. All were scared by the gasoline-fed flames that flashed through the fuselage. Four of the rescued died later.

The latest casualty was the plane's stewardess, Miss Reba Monk of Santa Monica, Cal., who was credited by survivors with having led many of the passengers to safety.

Ten others of the plane's passengers and crew members were in critical condition at Seattle and Renton hospitals. Several were not expected to live.

Japs Warned About Arsenic, Acid Sauces

TOKYO, Dec. 1 (AP)—Care for some soy sauce laced with arsenic? or a little vinegar spiked with acetic acid?

The Metropolitan Hygienic Laboratory warned Japan today that such potent mixtures are being turned out by some Japanese processors.

The agency also found ketchup weighted with flour, cake and bread with a high content of white clay or dirt and ricecakes employees against inefficiency in the operations of the Veterans Administration in New England.

It was learned today that congressional investigators had intended to keep the probe secret until it was actually under way but that word had leaked out and that both officials and employees of the VA were aware of the coming investigation.

Signs of the anticipation of the probe, resulting from thousands of complaints by individual veterans and veteran organizations, were seen in the memorandum sent throughout the regional V.

This memorandum ordered a blanket of silence, forbidding employees to discuss complaints or say anything derogatory about the service under penalty of dismissal, it was learned.

COMPLAINTS MISSING

Investigators will learn that hundreds of written complaints, which have been made to the VA by individuals and organizations, are missing from the files and apparently lost or destroyed.

But at least one veteran will be able to produce a registered receipt which he received in acknowledgement of his complaint.

It is known that one group of veterans has spent the past several weeks quietly gathering information about alleged illegal practices by VA officials and employees and is awaiting the arrival of congressional investigators* to present this evidence.

One of the abuses, it was learned, was in disability ratings, which are required for retention in VA jobs. Numerous healthy and normal employees are being retained at the expense of overseas veterans with real disability, it was indicated.

In one instance, a feminine employee, a World War II veteran, was examined at West Roxbury Hospital and given a clean bill of health. This report allegedly was destroyed and she was then sent to Bedford Hospital. There, as a result of her story of dreams she was going to kill her mother, she was given a disability rating, according to information gathered by the group of veterans.

DOCTOR'S GIFTS CHARGES

Another case, they charge, involved a wartime replacement employee, who has been sporting a new, high-priced auto, allegedly the gift of a doctor who had been favored with fee basis cases sent to him at his private office.

Another complaint is that veterans without "connections" or political pull have been waiting two to three years for action on disability claims. Thousands of these applications are still on file, according to the veteran group, with payments retroactive to the date of filing, if the claims are granted.

Another complaint is the mis-handling of personnel with many departments overstaffed and others undermanned and, in many cases, with incompetent help.

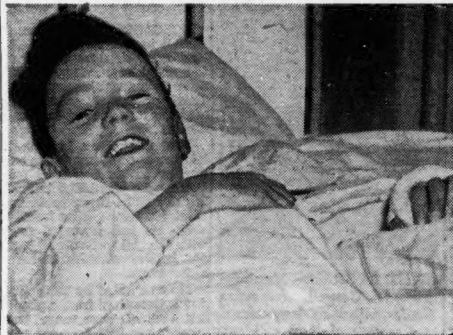

Cold Wave Fading, Milder Tomorrow

The cold wave fanning the East and the South was due to be supplanted late today by more moderate temperatures, as the weatherman predicted a high of 38 before nightfall and milder weather tomorrow.

The nation's low for the day was in Greenville, Me., where the mercury registered zero. But the cold wave extended as far south as Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia.

RICHARD HUDSON, 5, ABED IN CITY HOSPITAL
Arrived at Hospital Within Five Minutes of Brother

BAD LUCK IN BUNCHES—Two days before Thanksgiving, Kenneth Hudson, 15, fell and injured his shoulder. On the holiday, Gertrude Hudson, 14, was bitten by a dog. The climactic touch was added yesterday when, within five minutes of each other, William, 10 (above) and Richard, 5 (at top), arrived at the City Hospital in two police ambulances. William fell and fractured his left arm in a topple from a railroad trestle. Richard was struck on the head by a stone thrown by an unidentified boy in front of the Hudson home in Lamartine St., Jamaica Plain.

Earlier Europe Aid Fund Check Asked

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1 (AP)—The Senate drew a vote today on the $597,000,000 European relief bill.

As a preliminary step to a later decision on exactly how much actual cash should be provided, Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D.) of Colorado, asked the appropriations committee to determine whether a $232,000,000 "checking account" against American food supplies is left over from foreign aid Congress voted last spring.

Johnson wrote chairman Bridges (R.) of New Hampshire, asking the appropriations committee to look into reports that only about $100,000,000 of the $332,000,000 made available in May has been spent thus far in aiding Italy, Austria, Greece and Trieste.

"If only $100,000,000 has been spent," he said, "the rest represents a checking account on our dwindling supply of grain and other food. If we pile $800,000,000 more on that now, I want to know what is going to happen."

President Truman's report to Congress a week ago on the Spring relief fund showed that $72,000,000 in supplies actually had been shipped by Sept. 30, with an additional $130,000,000 in process of being purchased.

While the Senate seemed likely to approve the over-all authorization bill without lowering the aid limit, determined economy advocates carried their fight today to the House Republican steering committee.

Although the House foreign affairs committee already has voted to Italy and Austria by $108,000,000 and add $60,000,000 for China, a drive was under way to have the committee reverse its 10-9 decision.

Meanwhile, Congressional discussion of the long-range so-called Marshall plan was enlivened by an assertion by Sen. Ives (R.) of New York, that this country may find itself "enslaved under Moscow" if it fails to take the lead in the economic rebuilding of Europe.

6 Die, 37 Hurt as Fire Sweeps Dormitory for Homeless Men

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 1 (AP)—Flames whipped through a dormitory for homeless men early today, leaving six known dead, 10 believed missing and at least 37 injured

—many of them employed as street corner Santa Clauses.

Some of the victims were killed or injured in leaping from their quarters in the second and third floors of the Volunteers of America, Inc., as firemen—hampered by sub-freezing weather that turned the water from the hose to ice against the building walls—tought vainly to prevent them from jumping.

Thirty-eight men were listed as treated at three hospitals, where doctors described a number of them as in critical condition.

Harriman Sees Freeze of Wages, Prices

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1 (AP)—Commerce Secretary Harriman told Congress today a general freeze of prices and wages might be necessary in the future unless authority is granted now for selective price and wage controls and rationing.

Renewing the Administration's plea for "sind by" power to put on economic controls, Harriman told the House banking committee:

"Adequate advance preparation makes for fairness. I believe that it is advisable to start developing a program now rather than to risk need of hasty action later when the only feasible course might be to put on the brakes by some type of general freeze on prices and wages and then to proceed to correct the individual inequities as rapidly as possible."

The Senate-House group cancelled its hearings for the day. Members said because of the week-end cold wave they had been particularly anxious to question Chapman about proposed controls over coal, oil and gasoline.

Sen. White (R.) of Maine, chairman of the Senate commerce committee, said he planned to appoint a five-man subcommittee "to study the shortage of oil and coal in New England" and "what can be done about it."

Auto Case Against Coffey Dismissed

Revere police decided in Chelsea court today it was all a mis-take when they arrested City Councilman James C. Coffey of East Boston, Nov. 20 and charged him with refusing to obey a traffic officer.

The case was dismissed for want of prosecution after a hearing which lasted six minutes and produced no testimony.

Coffey had been booked by Sgt. Max Freedman for allegedly refusing to halt his automobile, which contained friends, at a traffic barrier set up because of the $100,000 fire at the Hurley concession, Revere Beach. The councilor was released on $100 bail pending a hearing today.

Waifs' Identities Puzzle Police

Newton police today were still without any tangible clue to the identity of the mother who Friday night abandoned her newborn daughter in a nurse's car at Newton-Wellesley Hospital, where the infant was reported still on the danger list but gradually recovering from the effects of exposure.

In an almost identical case, authorities at Cranston, R. I., were seeking the mother of a three-months-old boy, found abandoned Saturday night on the rear seat of a parked auto.

Everett Vet Tells Tragic Story of Triangle Slaying

In the Texas city where he fell in love with a 17-year-old girl who proudly watched him win his wings as an Army airman, an Everett youth told today how he killed the man who had taken his wife's love.

Donald Eugene McGowan, 26, whose permanent home was with his grandmother, Mrs. Frances Walsh in Bell

Donald E. McGowan

Rock st., Everett, was arraigned on a murder charge in Houston, Tex., his calm demeanor amazing guards. Dead was Robert Tucker, 24, of Whiteface, Tex., a college student who was shot three times in the chest as he stood beside McGowan's young wife and defied the Everett husband to break up their love affair.

In seclusion today was the third member of the triangle, Betty Lou McGowan, now 19 and the mother of a 15-month-old child. She married the flier in 1943, came to Boston with him and took an apartment in Monument sq., Charlestown, and left him last June, going back to Houston with the baby.

TELLS OF TRIANGLE

Before he was arraigned on the murder charge before Justice of the Peace Thomas I. Decker, the youth calmly sat down with Sheriff Jake Colca and related the story of his broken love that led him to travel 2500 miles from Everett to settle finally the love triangle that gave him no rest.

He told of his flying days at Ellington Field, Texas, his marriage to Betty Lou and their postwar period of adjustment in Boston that ended with the girl and child leaving him. She sought a divorce in Houston, but was told to wait until she had completed a full year's residence, seven months from now.

McGowan kept informed of the court proceedings in the 129th District court of Houston and of his wife's romance with Tucker, a sophomore at Texas A. & M. College. He wrote to his rival, warning him to stay away from Betty Lou, then three weeks ago he drove to Houston. His story, as related by the sheriff, continues:

SOUGHT RECONCILIATION

"They kept going together even after I arrived. I went to where she was staying with her mother. On this particular night Bob Tucker was at the house and I warned him again. He threatened to beat me up if I didn't stay away from Betty Lou. Saturday night I went to the Forum Cafeteria on Main st. where she works, and I spoke to her.

"I told her we should start all over again, and that everything would be all right this time. She said 'No.'

"When I left the cafeteria I met Bob Tucker walking there and I warned him again. I walked back to the place and told her I meant what I said about them going together.

"I watched, and at 9:30 p. m. Bob left with Betty. He was going to see her home by bus. I parked near her home waiting for the bus. They got off and I drove beside them. I told him to go away and he refused.

"I got out of the car and stood in front of them. I told him I would count three and if he didn't get away from her I would shoot him. I pulled the gun out of my pocket and pointed it at him. Bob didn't say anything and neither did Betty Lou.

FIRE AT RIVAL

"I fired. I think I fired two or three times. He fell to the ground. Betty Lou bent over him. I put the gun in my pocket, didn't say anything and just stood there. Two women came by and I told them to call the police.

"The police arrived and a Sheriff Cole came over to me and I told him I shot Bob Tucker. I said the gun was in my pocket and told him to reach in and take it out. He did."

Mystery Injuries Of Youth Probed

Injured in a mysterious manner, Lawrence E. Fay, 24, of Millett st., Dorchester, was in serious condition today at Chelsea Naval Hospital from a fractured skull and internal injuries.

Mattapan police said he was found moaning in the doorway of a house in Norfolk st., and removed to City Hospital. He was later transferred to the naval hospital when it was learned he was still in the service.

Police said an occupant of the dwelling where he was found told them that a stranger knocked on the door of an upstairs apartment in the belief it was his home, but left quietly when told of his mistake.

How he suffered head and internal injuries before he was found in the ground floor entryway, was being investigated today by Mattapan detectives.

SHE JUST LOVES PETS—Joan Harieder, 11, of Indianapolis, Ind., has two new pets, a dog and a goat, which she found playing in the street. Joan just had to take them home—despite the fact that she has three cats, six turtles, three dogs, three goldfish and a flock of pet chickens. Her parents decided that was too much. She now has fish, chickens, one dog... and the goat and new dog.

Many Rescued as Fires in Hub, Malden, Cambridge Injure 9

Highlighted by the heroism of two young Newton sisters, fires in Boston, Malden and Cambridge caused injury to seven firemen and two civilians, with the rescue of a bedridden invalid, and drove a score of persons into freezing temperatures.

Heroine Aided Fire Victims

The two young heroines were Jean M. Lavin, 18, and her sister, Ann D., 16, of Academy rd., Newton, who were house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kinnon, Spring st., Malden, when fire broke out in a metal wastebasket in the three-story apartment house.

Awakened by smoke the two girls, who had attended the BC-HC football game with the Kinnons, ran through the building and aroused other tenants.

Firemen carried Walter Valentine, 68, an invalid, from his bedroom on the second floor. Six firemen suffered minor injuries but none was hospitalized. Men and apparatus from Medford, Revere and Melrose responded to a second alarm. Damage was estimated at $4000.

TWO SUFFER BURNS

Two employees of the Crescent Restaurant, Scollay sq., were burned about the arms during a stubborn two-alarm fire which started from a defective oil burner and caused $3000 damage. Gus Stamboulas, 58, of Milford st., South End, was treated at City Hospital for burns on the arms and right ear. Peter Stumilis, 36, of Hancock st., West End, was treated for burns on the forearms at Mass General Hospital. Both were released after treatment.

Eight persons including five children were driven out by the Cambridge fire which started in the basement of the two and a half story wooden building at 438-440 Cambridge st., East Cambridge, and worked up to the second floor.

SAVED BY POLICE

Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Ruggieri and their children, Selma, 11; Frank, Jr., 10; Daniel, 9; Virginia, 7 and Eileen, 8 months, were assisted to safety by Patrolmen Joseph M. Corkery, George Selfridge and Michael J. Barry, who discovered the blaze while passing in a radio car.

Nicholas Povia, 54, owner of the building, who sleeps in the rear of a variety store on the ground floor which he conducts, made his way to the street unassisted. Officials said the fire was caused by wood piled too near the furnace.

Navy Plane Hits Bridge in Capital

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1 (AP)—A Navy torpedo bomber today crashed into one of Washington's busiest bridges during a busy hour—and no one was seriously injured.

The plane—which the Navy said it believes was piloted by Lt. S. T. Bitting—almost cleared the bridge. But one wing caught, and the plane looped across the bridge which spans the Anacostia river just above its juncture with the Potomac.

Witnesses said that when it became obvious the plane was in trouble, and traffic stopped. Otherwise, the plane might have smashed into two lanes of traffic.

Soviet Death Ray Defense Reported

COPENHAGEN, Dec. 1 (INS)—The Berlingske Tidende, in a Berlin dispatch, reported today that the Russians now have an infra-red death ray and are constructing a defense carpet of such beams about strategic Soviet areas.

I. B. Noerlund, the paper's Berlin correspondent, said this and other sensational Russian weapons were being developed further from German inventions and "brains" captured after the Nazis' surrender.

Mrs. F. D. Grounded By Weather in Eire

SHANNON, Eire, Dec. 1 (AP)—Bad weather stranded Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt today. She is on her way to a United Nations meeting in Geneva. Bad flying conditions kept her plane grounded for two nights at Shannon Airport. The fog lifted there today, but icy runways prevented a take-off.

FAMILY ROUTED BY CAMBRIDGE FIRE—Mrs. Margaret Ruggieri, of Cambridge st., Cambridge, and her four children, Daniel, 9; Eileen, 8 months; Virginia, 7, and Frank, 10, find haven in a neighbor's home after being forced to flee when fire swept their house. A pet dog sounded the alarm by barking or smoke filled their apartment. The fire started in a woodpile near the furnace.

Can't Both Feed And Fight Reds, Says N. J. Solon

By DAN MARKEL
Boston American Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Protest against Administration policy that "spends your money to support Communism on one hand and to fight against it on the other" was voiced by Rep. Frank A. Mathews, Jr. (R.) of New Jersey. Mathews offered a record of what the U. S. gave Russia from January to September this year, and balanced it against "what we got."

Gifts to Russia were tabulated as:

Lend lease—$16,100,000. UN relief—$32,000,000. Private charity—$1,800,000. Total—$49,900,000.

"During the same period we exported to Russia $114,000,000 and imported from her $49,000,000, or a balance of $55,000,000 additional in favor of Russia," he amplified.

While $2,800,000 worth of petroleum products were being shipped to Russia, the Army Air Forces refused to authorize a demonstration flight of Army planes at Robbinsdale Airport, N. J. Mathews continued, an Air Force commander at Andrews Field explaining the turn-down was "due to critical fuel shortage."

"And what did we get from Russia?" Andrews exclaimed.

"Half a million dollars' worth of caviar, crab meat, sausage casings, fancy furs, licorice root, diamonds, platinum and platinum products. We did, fortunately, get some manganese and chrome ore."

Mathews asserted that a plan must be formulated and carried out that will guarantee that "whatever is given will go to the right sources, in the right method, to obtain the right results."

Newton Man Injured By Hit-Run Auto

Struck by a hit-run car as he was crossing Boylston st. at Langley rd., Newton, Thomas Scialdone, 51, of Chestnut st., Brookline, suffered a broken arm and possible fractured pelvis early today. Scialdone, a contractor, was taken to Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

Police recovered a door handle off a light model auto near the scene of the crash and said the victim apparently was hit by the side of the vehicle. The hit-run driver fled toward Brookline, and search for a damaged sedan was begun in that town.

WET BUT DRY

TOKYO, Dec. 1 (AP)—Previously rationed sake, beer and whisky went on unrestricted sale today, but because of high prices most retailers didn't have enough cash to put in stocks.

Sake sells for 550 yen ($11) for two guards, beer for 100 yen ($2) a bottle and whisky 1000 yen ($20) a bottle.

A typical small-dealer stock would require 300,000 yen ($6000) cash. Few had that much, and loans are restricted by the Bank of Japan to essential industries.

Ship Pact Eases N. E. Oil Crisis

New England was spared a new oil fuel crisis today when West Coast ship owners and the Masters, Mates and Pilots Union, AFL, tentatively agreed on a new contract, averting a threatened midnight strike.

Settlement of the dispute by the U. S. Labor Conciliation Board at San Francisco will enable West Coast tankers, which carry nearly 20 per cent of this area's fuel oil supply, to keep up an uninterrupted flow into New England. The threatened tieup would have affected 70 tankers, nine of which were either enroute or already tied up in ports in this area. Terms of the agreement were said to include preferential employment for union members and wage increases ranging from 5 to 10 per cent.

Churchill Is Picture of Health, But Silent, at 73d Birthday Celebration

LONDON, Dec. 1 (INS)—Jovial, ruddy Winston Churchill celebrated his 73d birthday yesterday appearing as solid as an oak barrel and approximately in the same shape. Apple-cheeked like a schoolboy, and beaming, Britain's wartime

Prime Minister strode briskly into the Savoy Hotel with his wife for a family luncheon party. Only one thing was missing, the cigar which the public always expects to see dead center in his round face. If anything, the strain of the war years has washed out of his rosy face, making him seem younger.

He still walks with his head thrust forward belligerently, and his shoulders have the same old stoop.

Winnie had nothing to say to the newsmen, nor did he issue his customary birthday statement to the nation.

Gifts and hundreds of congratulatory telegrams from all over the world have arrived for him.

Owner Arrested in Killing Of Horse to Feed Hungry

NEW YORK, Dec. 1 (INS)—John Hawkins, self-described horse lover, was arrested for slaughtering his favorite mare, Portaslain. Hawkins, a familiar figure around Central Park, told police he killed the animal so that the meat could be sent to Europe's starving.

them:

"President Shukri Al-Kuwatly approves your demands because partition threatens not only Syrian independence, but the very being of all Arab nations."

On their way to Al-Kuwatly's palace, the youths — about 6000 strong—also looted the Russian-Syrian Cultural Center and the French legation. They also clashed with members of the Syrian Communist party.

U. S. Charge D'Arreaires Robert Memminger protested to Mardam Bey.

The tenor of Arab bitterness was indicated in a declaration by Abdel Rahman Azzam Pasha, secretary of the seven-nation Arab League, who asserted his people would never submit to partition.

Azzam Pasha, whose organization represents some 33,000,000 Arabs, said the league would resist partition "by force."

One informant said King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia had agreed to contribute the oil revenues of his kingdom—paid to him by American oil companies and estimated at $18,000,000 a year—to support Arab military resistance to partition.

Azzam Pasha said the league's plan of action was ready—apparently referring to a recent meeting of the Arab League Council in Lebanon, where Egypt and other members of the league were requested to move their troops to the borders of Palestine and to mobilize troops of more distant member states.

The League comprises the states of Saudi Arabia, Yemen, Iraq, Trans-Jordan, Egypt, Lebanon and Syria. They cover an area about half that of the U. S.

WASH-DOG

CHICAGO, Dec. 1 (AP)—A month ago Mrs. Eugene Heffebower tossed an armful of soiled cloths into a washing machine, turned it on, and then saw two unhappy eyes peering from the porthole.
She quickly rescued Pirula, her Chihuahua dog.

Last Friday Piruli was in the basement when the laundry man collected the week's washing. Piruli disappeared.
A search of the laundry produced Piruli, quietly sleeping in a corner. Whether he was in the bag, only Piruli knows.

McGrath Blames Inflation on GOP

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1 (INS)—Democratic National Chairman McGrath threw down the gauntlet to the Republicans in the 1948 presidential battle by accusing GOP leaders in Congress of steering the nation to the brink of "boom and bust."
The Rhode Island senator, in a radio address from Bangor, Me., tossed aside previous pleas for bipartisan co-operation in the special session on European aid and anti-inflation legislation.
He charged specifically that the "Tafts and the Wherrys and the Hallecks and the Martins" are responsible for existing high prices because they led the battle against the wartime OPA.

Although comprising leading high school teachers and authorities in American history, the judges in this contest—both locally and in the national competition—will not be identified until after the winners are selected.

All the high schools that participated in the competition last Tuesday are expected to have submitted the top three papers of their respective schools to either Supt. Arthur L. Gould of the public schools or the Rev. Cornelius T. H. Sherlock of the parochial schools before Tuesday morning.

The first, second and third prize contestants will compete Tuesday, Dec. 10, in the national examination which will be held simultaneously in 13 key cities throughout the country. The Hub exam will be held in Faneuil Hall.

Questions for the national examination are being drawn up by a group of nationally known historians from all parts of the nation.

The quiz will be sent to Boston, care of the History Awards Editor of the Record-American-Sunday Advertiser, by registered mail prior to examination time.

Right up in the FOUR-FRONT

SCATTERED across this nation are some of the cagiest automobile buyers the world ever saw.

They cut their eyeteeth on a steering wheel, so to speak — they know car values from 'A to izzard — and you have to be plenty good to step ahead of your price class in the volume of your sales to them.

That's why it's startling — sometimes even to us — to see the double-barreled story of public preference that's written in the sales records and registration figures:

ITEM: Only three cars outsell Buick — and all of these are in the so-called "low-price field."

ITEM: In some localities — and quite often in polls that ask "Which car will you buy next?" — Buick ranks not fourth, but third, actually ahead of one of the lowest-priced three.

Naturally, the smart buyer will ask "How come?"

Well, the most standout style of the season, the style that's the clearest forecast of wonderful things to be, undoubtedly has much to do with it.

But that isn't all. The dollar is still a pretty important measuring stick.

So we don't think Buick could be where it is if it didn't offer a bigger dollar's worth — bigger in size and substance, in lift and life, in soft ride and easy handling, bigger in the all-round happiness you'll get out of your buy.

Which suggests, of course:

Why go against the solid judgment of your fellow men? Why not see your Buick dealer now — with or without a car to trade — and place the order that will put you where you belong, right up in the four-front?

Destroyed

Raging flames consume the 46-year-old ferryboat Tamalpais, which had recently been scrapped, in San Francisco harbor. The blaze could be seen for miles. The ship, except for engines and other metal parts, was completely destroyed. A local drydock company moved tugs to the scene as soon as fireboats extinguished the flames. They towed the flame-blackened hull to a salvage dock.

A DISGRACE TO AMERICA

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN, MONDAY, DEC. 1, 1947

OVERLOOKED and tacitly tolerated for a long time, the shameful mismanagement of Indian affairs by the Department of the Interior is arousing public indignation and a demand for immediate reform.

The Hearst newspapers have exposed the tragic plight of the Navajo tribe in the Southwest.

The revelations now include a similar condition of hunger, disease and rights denied among the Hopi Indians.

Geographically and racially, the Hopis form an island among the Navajos, smaller in numbers, more restricted in space, but in full sad equality of misery with their neighbors.

The Hopis, in their social structure, are more advanced than the Navajos.

They have wrested from the unfriendly desert, when unfettered by Washington bureaus, an adequate and dignified living.

But now, forced to reduce their herds, subjected to arbitrary restrictions, deprived of presumably inalienable rights as citizens, they face extinction through the slow death of poverty, disease, idleness and the fatal cancer of despair.

Yet the Hopis have contributed their matchless braves to the armies of the United States, who have fought and died heroically for the sake of liberties and privileges they do not enjoy.

Does this fine people deserve treatment marked by neglect, callous indifference, purblind stinginess, brutal restrictions, economic strangulation and denial of civil rights imposed upon them by the Bureau of Indian Affairs of the Department of the Interior?

More deplorable still, DOES THE GREAT AMERICAN PEOPLE DESERVE TO SUFFER THE HUMILIATION AND SHAME OF AN UNANSWERABLE INDICTMENT BROUGHT ABOUT BY THE MALFEASANCE OF ITS OFFICIALS?

THE AMERICAN PEOPLE who, instinctively and traditionally, spend prodigally of their goods and efforts to relieve want all over the world, are blameless in this matter.

But Americans will remain blameless only when they demand, insist and compel the administrators of Indian affairs to move swiftly and efficiently to erase this stain upon the national conscience.

Conditions are intolerable to the Hopis, who are the wards of the Department of Interior.

They are also intolerable to their fellow-citizens throughout our great country.

Let this shocking picture of misery be erased.

It is a disgrace to America.

Let it be immediately replaced by one that shall properly reflect America's generosity and justice, and be a credit rather than a disgrace to the officials who have fallen so far short of their obligations.

NEED GOOD BILLS

WEDNESDAY is the last day for filing bills in the Massachusetts Legislature.

That should be an invitation and challenge to all Senators and Representatives to introduce measures dealing with water power, Community Property legislation and other long-overdue popular benefits.

The harnessing of our neglected rivers for the generation of cheap and abundant hydroelectric power is the ONLY WAY we can escape the harmful effects of fuel oil and coal famines which are becoming dangerously repetitious.

Prompt passage of a thoughtfully conceived Community Property law is the SURE METHOD of reducing the federal income taxes of Massachusetts people as much as one hundred million dollars a year.

Senators and Representatives should not adopt a "let George do it" attitude. If they are giving their constituents the right kind of service they will sponsor water power and Community Property bills themselves and not rely on what others may or may not do.

Come not cringing to sue me!
Take me with triumph and power

As a warrior storms a fortress!
I will not shrink or cover.
Come as you came in the desert,
Ere you were women and men,
When the tiger passions were in us,
And love as you loved me then!
WILLIAM W. STORY.

THE HEROINE of the poem, of which the above is an excerpt, is Cleopatra, one of the world's first synthetic red-heads. The plea is voiced to Antony. Women often voice the hope some man will sweep them off their feet. At times, however, when men attempt this type of approach women complain their hair-dos are being ruined or their make-up damaged. These are exceptions to the rule.

William Wetmore Story, the highly versatile author of the above, was a poet, a sculptor and a lawyer. There is a replica of his statue of Cleopatra in the Metropolitan Museum of Art. I may go over there tomorrow to look at it. I want to see if the Egyptian "it" girl is depicted as being cute or statuesque.

DOGS HAVE RISKED their lives to save cats. But so far I have never heard of a cat risking its life to save a dog. This may be due to lack of opportunity. In any event, this should not dim the many heroic achievements of cats, especially that of Sparky, the Brooklyn cat, who with his dog pal, Mickey, started the alarm that saved the lives of twenty-eight apartment house residents.

Mickey and Sparky, as you probably have read, were recently awarded medals for bravery. The news picture of these two heroes wearing their medals is one of the most appealing animal pictures I have ever viewed. I am putting it in my animal hero scrapbook right next to the photograph of the Burbank Cal. Springer Spaniel who saved his young mistress from being attacked by a rattlesnake.

HORSES AND WOMEN: A deep and conscientious student of the subject says brunettes make the best secretaries. Natural blondes do not like to cope with the tedious job of transcribing stenographic notes. Red-heads are too temperamental. Brown-eyed honey blondes take up too much time exercising their brown eyes and rearranging their cute hair-dos.

They also "vamp" the boss, not so much to win his affection but to check to see if their appeal is in working order.

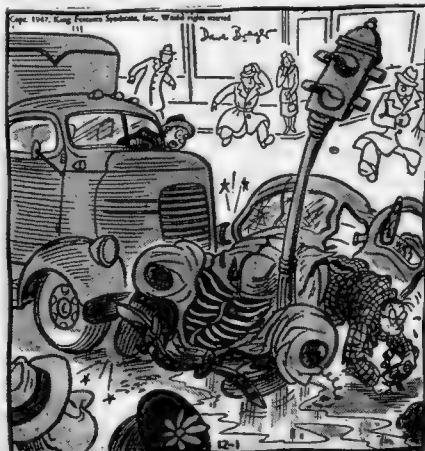

SIDEGLITS: Well, sir, I finally remembered who played the title role in the original film production of "The Miracle Man." It was that grand old actor, Joe Dowling. . . No matter what type of food you want you can find it somewhere on the island of Manhattan. There is even a place where you can get a New England style breakfast of codfish balls and baked beans with apple pie for dessert.

ASKING: Queries from clients. Q—How is it possible for a woman to look glamorous to her husband both day and night? Face cream, hair-nets etc., which gave a woman a grotesque appearance, are necessities. Husbands are inclined to be critical of this appearance. Can you, through your gaudy and Men department, urge men to be more tolerant on such occasions? A—Every woman should have a room of her own to retire to when her appearance is handicapped by a loving husband when he sees his beautiful mate all greased up and bound by beautifying creams and gadgets. Such is the decision of our Mules & Men experts.

BRAVE PROPHETS: The prophets of old Moore's Almanack, published in Ireland, are the only almanac viewers of the future who risk their reputations by making horse race predictions. They say the 1948 Grand National Steeplechase will be won by the favorite, The Epsom Derby by an Irish horse. The St. Leger by the favorite. The Manchester November Handicap by an outsider carrying a light weight.

PROTESTS: There is a current song titled: "I Don't Want Her. You Can Have Her. She is Too Fat For Me." A Bostonian protests this song. Says it "deeply hurts" the feelings of some women who are fat and cannot help it. She adds, "Besides the song gives a wrong impression. I weigh two hundred pounds and am doing fine. Have plenty of dates. Many proposals."

TRAFFIC MENACE: Dreamy, pipe smoking auto drivers are a menace to traffic. They seem to be in a fog! Smoke is always getting in the way. So claim a Californian who demands smoking a pipe while driving an automobile be made illegal.

"Gee, pal, you WON'T say anything about this, will you? It'd cost me my job!"

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Copyright, 1947, King Features Syndicate

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Something tells me that the man who started selling the St. Louis Browns to Richard Muckerman, ten years ago or so, probably was the same fellow that was spinning around that suite up there in the Chase Hotel in St. Louis back in the twenties when the Cardinals had won a pennant and we were very young and so was the hootch inside us.

I was just reading that Mr. Muckerman is a horny-handed millionaire who bought a little bit of stock in the Browns and never thought it might be habit-forming until he was horribly addicted and finally sold off all his players to cure himself.

I was reading that he was baying at the moon at a party in a hotel in Jefferson City that night a few years back when suddenly a stranger asked: "Why don't you buy my $3500 worth of stock in the Browns?"

And he kept pestering Mr. Muckerman, and pulling and picking at him, until Mr. M. said: "All right, give me a blank check and I will buy your rancid violets but then leave me alone so I can sing."

WHAT KIND of party was he, Mr. Muckerman? Was he tall and jandorous-looking with kind of sunk-in eyes and a Texas hat and a watch-chain with an Odd-Fellows' fob?

Sounds to me mightily like the same man, Mr. Muckerman. A few years older than the time he sold me Lil Stoner, the old Detroit pitcher, in that suite at the Chase Hotel for $1500, and $500 for a catcher, because a pitcher is no good without you got a boy to keep him.

And, tell me, Mr. Muckerman, now, was there a right pretty sort of lady, a red-head, setting there on the sofa all night long while the gals were harmonizing and arching their necks and fetching her drams and ev'body thought she was somebody else's true loving spouse?

Edna! That was her name! Her name was Edna, because I remember one night we all put our little tousled heads together and sang "There Is Always a Girl Named Edna."

Well, this whiney-voiced party somehow picked on me to buy Lil Stoner, who had been a real good pitcher for the Tigers and had gone down to Dallas when his term was up. I said: "No, I don't want to buy him."

"Why not?" this fellow said with a glarey look.

"Because," I said, "I am not baseball; I am newspaper." You know, words and phrases, strung together with inimitable facility.

"Sure, I know," he said, "Associated Press. Nothing but bigotry!"

"What?" I said.

"Associated Press," he said. He seemed ignorant to me.

THEN THIS LADY, Edna, began to say, "Why don't you buy Lil Stoner, Red?" and she started to cry and yell.

I was a red-head too, then. I never could stand a lady yelling and carrying on, so the upshot was that somebody pulled out a check on a little old busted bank down around Poplar Bluff and I filled it in for $2000 and he wrote out a bill of sale for Lil Stoner and one.

The next morning when I met Grantland Rice he said: "I suppose you know what you did last night, don't you?" And Harry Salsinger, from Detroit, said: "And in Missouri at that! He had to pick Missouri to do it! Boy, that certainly is bad. Well, whenever they have a World Series out this way, we will run up to Jefferson City and call on you on visitors' day and bring you cigars and candy bars."

"Met" I yelled. "I didn't do no such of a thing. She went out with her husband. That skinny guy in the Texas hat." And Harry Salsinger said: "Oh, her," Rice and Salsinger said. "Nobody ain't fretting about her. She is the house-mother. But you wrote a bum check for $2000 and furthermore, come Jan. 1, you are responsible for the board and keep of Lil Stoner and one and they are terrible notes to me, my catcher, to poverty, all for a smile from a pretty red-head."

WHEN CHRISTMAS CAME I wrote Lil Stoner a nice note. I said I didn't want to stand in the way of his advancement so, inasmuch as I didn't have any ball club I was giving him his unconditional release. Then I wrote an article for the great American free press giving the same notice to one, my catcher.

In Florida, I asked Judge Landis and he said all right but the next time he would fine me $26,240,000, the same that he fined John D. Rockefeller.

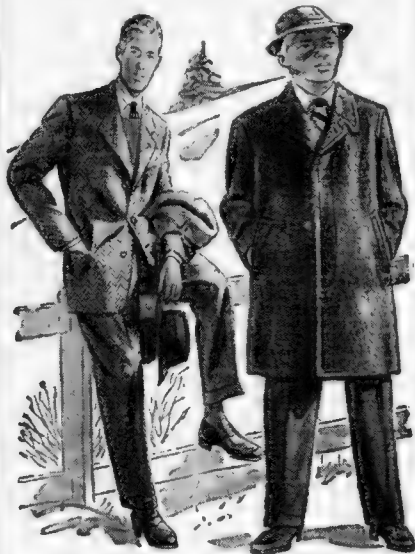

So now, Mr. Muckerman, you tell me. Was that how it was you bought into the Browns that night at the party in Jefferson City?

And tell me, for my purely historical interest, how was Edna and have the years been kind to her?

IT'S WONDERFUL! FIRST NATIONAL'S NEW SINGLE SERVICE MILK CONTAINER

Wonderful! That's the verdict of thousands of New England Housewives, who have purchased Dairy-Fresh Brookside Milk in First National's New Single-Service Container.

They like it because it's sturdy, and easy to open and close. They appreciate the fact that it's more sanitary — for the milk is hermetically sealed into the container, and poured only from the sanitary spout, which is untouched by hands. Milk in this new container keeps cold and fresh longer, too!

Triple Killing Mystery Unfolds

Paul Stoutenburgh's name seldom made the headlines, even though he had one of the most important and complex jobs in Washington during the war. A brilliant physicist, he was top man in government patent work involving the secrets of atomic research.

Then the police found his body and those of his wife and 12-year-old daughter in their Washington home, and they assumed that he had fired the fatal shots. If so, why did he suddenly turn killer? If not, were foreign agents involved in the tragedy?

All the facts in this intriguing mystery will be presented for the first time in "Tragic End of a Genius," in next Sunday's American Weekly, magazine distributed with the Boston Sunday Advertiser.

More than 500 persons gave the ship a rousing sendoff as it sailed with the grain and flour brought here by three sections of the Friendship Train which canvassed Midwestern and Southern states.

The Friendship will pick up additional grain and flour at New York before sailing on the final leg of its journey. It is expected to arrive in Le Havre in about two weeks.

Congress Seen Ready to Shift A-Bomb Control to Military

By WILLIAM P. FLYTHE

Boston Evening American Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—A bitter struggle between the armed services and civilians for control of atomic energy for war will be decided in favor of the military, it was learned today.

It will be accomplished by congressional action to change the Atomic Energy Act which totally excluded the military and gave a civilian atomic energy control commission absolute authority.

The first action will be taken at a meeting of the joint congressional atomic committee early this week.

It will recommend amendments to the act clearly defining the armed services' right to dictate the kinds and numbers of atomic weapons, or bombs, to be produced for the defense of the country.

Wallace Defends Maltz On House Red Charge

NEW YORK, Dec. 1 (INS).—Former Vice-President Henry Wallace said the House un-American activities committee is smothering civil liberties and defended Hollywood writer Albert Maltz as a "fine, cultured person" who wouldn't advocate overthrow of the U.S.

Wallace, in a broadcast, declared he personally did not know Maltz's political affiliations, but pointed out that he had "done a marvelous job writing patriotic, super-American scripts."

THE MOTION PICTURE is everybody's business, just as the school and the church are everybody's business. Although the motion picture business is private enterprise, done for a profit, every parent has to decide for himself whether the particular picture is fit for his family. In a word, whereas buying a pair of nylon stockings involved no moral decisions, unless one buys beyond her means, buying tickets for a motion picture showing does involve such decisions.

Often the motion picture industry has met this particular problem with intelligence and foresight. The establishment of the Hays office and the employment of Joseph I. Breen recognized the need for joint and self-imposed moral censorship in a family business.

The production code devised by Martin Quigley, a publisher, sought to keep pictures in line with common decency and American mores. State regulatory agencies and the Legion of Decency aided.

During recent weeks the motion picture industry has gone in for sensational criticism because of Communist infiltration among its writers, directors, producers and actors. At first the industry behaved ill-advisedly, apparently guided by counsel who misunderstood the problem and misjudged public opinion.

Experts in such matters have drawn up a list of 400 persons in the motion picture industry who, innocently or by design, affiliated themselves with Communist enterprises in this country.

Of this number, about 150 are demonstrably left-wingers by choice. That is a small number compared with the total employment in this industry. What the Thomas committee demonstrated was that it is no longer popular and profitable to go along with those who are attempting through the movies to subvert American life.

AT FIRST, those in control of this industry took the stand that they were purer than washed fleece and that they had to defend everybody in their industry, which no one can possibly do in any walk of life. The liar, the hypocrite, the schemer and the trickster will find their way into any field.

Even among the clergy, to say nothing of journalism, cads will discover a niche for themselves. The motion picture management should have realized that and co-operated with the Thomas committee. The early remarks on this subject by Paul McNutt and Eric Johnston aggravated the situation.

Subsequently two important steps were taken within the industry which deserve praise. The first, in time, was the defeat of the Communists and their allies at the annual election of the Screen Writers Guild in Hollywood.

This organization had been one of the mainstays of Communist activity in this country. Because of the power of the Guild, young writers felt that they had to go along with the left wing if they were to be given work at all. That situation will now be cleaned up.

The second step was the meeting of the moguls of the industry at the Waldorf Astoria at which it was decided not to employ proved Communists and to suspend those in contempt of Congress, without pay, until they purge themselves of contempt or are otherwise cleared.

Lodge Asks Total Defense for War

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1 (INS)—Sen. Lodge (R.) of Massachusetts, suggested the U. S. set up a total defense in preparation for a total war by turning back all governmental functions possible to the states.

Lodge, in a letter to former President Hoover, chairman of the Commission on Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government, asserted that in the event of another war "one of the first targets to be hit would be the seat of government."

"The purpose, of course, would be to paralyze our capacity as a nation to take decisive and organized action."

"This possibility makes it imperative for us to devolve as many functions of government as we can on the states and subordinate units."

TRUE HEROISM

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Dec. 1 (AP)—William M. Smith, 16 months, isn't waiting for someone to build a better mousetrap. A mouse crawled out of a kitchen cupboard, so Billy promptly grabbed it barehanded, hanging on until his mother, Mrs. Frances Smith, came to the rescue.

Mrs. Smith, almost as nervous as the mouse, wrapped it in a rag and dumped it in a nearby coal yard.

Iran Cabinet, Parliament Called to Discuss Oil Crisis

Youth Steals Auto, $50 in Dedham

Theft of $50 in cash and an auto from a garage in Washington st., Dedham, was discovered early today and a few hours later police identified a 23-year-old local youth as the burglar.

They said the suspect broke a side window to gain entrance, took the cash from the office safe, and fled in an auto owned by a Newton man.

The youth's name and the registration number were circulated in a nine-state police teletype alarm in the belief he would leave the state.

"I was thinkin'..."

by IZZY ORT

While I'm punchin' the keyboard and gettin' these thoughts off'n my mind, the snow flakes is dribblin' down an' they's sadness in the air! I lost a good part a my shirt today when the Eagles couldn't figger out what Holy Cross got in the way of football flim-flam. It's a sad nite. Football season is over. Thanksgivin' Day is gone, snow is fallin' and the tinkles of Sandy Claws bells is on the streets. I feel like a poet I'm so sad. Winter is comin' an' I don't care fer it. Some day next week I'll hafta be ploddin' into some department store to get a gander at Sandy Claws and the new toys. It could be worst however. This is the time of year wen a guy feels in the need of good cheer an' a warm place to sit in an' ferget his woes and the people next door. I got this combination all figured out. When the winds is blowin' all ya hafta do is hustle out to the bus or subway and git off at my corner. Pop in thru the door an' ye'll see warm atmosphere and cheer like ya never saw before! On the stage ye'll see a gay frolic that goes on 'tween times nite an' dance music that'll make yer socks jump outa yer shoes! Dis is why thousands say the gayest, gay afternoon nite spot is Ort's Grille, 25 Essex St.

Sam Wanamaker directed the production which Martin Gosch is presenting in association with Eunice Healy. One week only.

OPERA HOUSE—"THE FIRE-FLY," Rudolf Friml's melodious operetta with original book and lyrics by Otto Harbach, will be seen here in a modernized revival production for a fortnight's run. Importantly featured in cast are Jack Goode, Nina Varela, Hank Henry, Grazia Aurelia, Beverly Shearer, Gloria Ware, Melton Moore and others. Producers are Messrs. Shubert.

Tomorrow

CANDERS—"HENRY IV" (Part I), staged by Albert Marre and designed by John Holabird, will be presented by the Harvard Theater Workshop tomorrow and Saturday nights and Saturday matinee.

COLONIAL—"LADY WINDERMERE'S FAN," the Cornelia Otis Skinner-starring revival of the Oscar Wilde comedy, tonight begins the fourth and final week of a run that has repeated the capacity business it has enjoyed everywhere. Cecil Beaton has duplicated the American production's scenery and costumes designed for the London presentation. Jack Minster directed. Sponsored by Homer Curran in association with Lewis and Young.

MAJESTIC—"THE MEDIUM," with Marie Powers' starring performance in the Madame Flora role, and "The Telephone," Gian-Carlo Menotti's musical plays which the Theater Guild others as the fifth attraction in its subscription series, continues through Dec. 13. Production of the Ballet Society, presented by Chandler Cowles, Efron Zimbalist, Jr., and Edith Lutens.

SHUBERT—"TONIGHT AT 8:30," starring Gertrude Lawrence in Noel Coward's collection of six short plays, begins its third and final week tonight. "Ways and Means," "Family Album" and "Red Peppers" will be presented tonight, Thursday and Saturday evenings and at the Wednesday matinee. Bill for tomorrow night, Wednesday and Friday evenings and Saturday matinee will consist of "Hands Across the Sea," "Fumed Oak" and "Shadow Play."

The London company presented it for more than two years.

December 13 and 20

NOTHING helps to pretty a gal more than personalized face powder . . . the kind blended for her and before her very eyes from a host of colors sifted and mixed to approximate complexion perfection coverage. Meat Loaf With Savory Pickle Stuffing

By MARTHA LEE, Household Editor

CRISPY FALL AND WINTER DAYS find everyone off in a whirl of activities. About the only time all the family is accounted for is at dinner. And what more important time can there be to relax and enjoy a well-cooked meal! Today's food prices may simplify meals, but even simple foods take on renewed interest when a little extra care is taken in their preparation.

For example, a prosaic meat loaf takes on a "new look" and a new flavor appeal when made with a layer of savory pickle stuffing. In the following recipe a mixture of ham and pork was selected because of its delicate color and special flavor affinity for the usual pickle stuffing. Of course ground beef could be substituted for the ham and the results called Dilly Beef Loaf.

DILLY HAM LOAF

1 egg
1 cup evaporated milk
1 small onion, finely chopped
1/2 tsp. black pepper
1 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. thyme
1/2 cup cracker crumbs
1/2 lb. smoked ham, ground
1/2 lb. pork, ground

Pickle Stuffing

1 tsp. prepared mustard
1/2 cup evaporated milk
1/2 cup soft bread crumbs
2 canned pimientos, chopped
1/2 cup dill pickles, chopped
Beat egg with a fork. Add milk, onion, salt, pepper and thyme and blend thoroughly. Stir in cracker crumbs, then add meat and mix well. Combine stuffing ingredients in the order given. Divide meat mixture in half, and put one half in the bottom of a well greased loaf pan. Spread pickle stuffing firmly on top of meat, then add other half of meat mixture. Bake in a moderate oven (375 deg. F.) one hour. Makes six generous servings.

Canned and frozen foods, served with a variety of well-seasoned cream sauces, take on new appetite-appeal. Cooked vegetables, hard-cooked eggs, dill pickle, mustard, horseradish and many other ingredients may be imaginatively added to cream sauce for variety.

CORNEB BEEF HASH WITH CREAMY VEGETABLE SAUCE

1 lb. corned beef hash
3 tsp. butter or margarine
1/2 tsp. flour
1 tsp. salt
1/2 cup drained horseradish
1/2 tsp. pepper
2 cups milk
1 cup drained, cooked beans
1 cup drained, cooked onions

Cut corned beef into 6 rounds. Fork top of each and dot with butter. Bake in a moderate oven (325 deg. F.) 20 minutes or until rounds are brown on top and heated through. Melt 3 tsp. of butter in saucepan, add flour and seasonings and horseradish and blend. Gradually add milk, while stirring; cook over low heat until smooth and thickened, stirring constantly. Add vegetables and blend. Serve with corned beef. Makes 6 servings.

VIENNA SAUSAGE CASSEROLE

2 4-oz. cans Vienna sausages
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup chopped onions
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
1/2 cup flour
1/2 tsp. salt
1 No. 2 can whole kernel corn (2 1/2 cups)
1 1/2 cups cracker crumbs
3 tsp. butter, margarine or drippings

Melt butter and lightly cook onion and green pepper until clear. Blend in flour, salt and pepper. Remove from heat and gradually stir in milk. Return to low heat and stir until thickened. Add corn. Pour into casserole and top with cracker crumbs mixed with the three tablespoons melted butter or drippings. Bake 30 minutes in 350 deg. F. oven, adding sausages to the top the last 10 minutes of cooking time. Makes four servings.

Harvard Picks Black, Ankle-Length Gown

COLLEGE BOYS, and Harvard's Hasty Pudding scions proved to be no exceptions, still like the daring dress on the other guy's date. On their own date-dream, they prefer the modest little black number demure in cut and line, revealing but not obvious, and ankle-length. The boys don't like to get tangled up in feminine skirts when they rumba!

So they turned thumbs down on the bare-shoulder look and voted the covered-up dress the Hasty Pudding date-dress selection of 1947. It was an Elfreda-designed frock, in black faille, ballerina-influenced, with round sweet-heart neckline and tiny puffed sleeves. Irene Urban, of the University of New Hampshire, modeled the winning dress.

WHAT THE BOYS LIKED

As academic Thespians, the boys showed excellent fashion taste Saturday when, for the first time in 152 years of Hasty Pudding's star-studded, blue-blooded history, a fashion show was held within the sacred

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

Beauty and Fashion Editor

THERE ARE many things many of us can do without . . . but face powder isn't one of them. If you searched the beauty chests of women throughout the country in every walk of life and on every financial rung . . . you'd find a box of face powder on the shelf. Want to bet?

Women who frown on other forms of cosmetics . . . who even shun the use of lip coloring . . . make capital use of face powder . . . the shine-remover, as it was known in days gone by. Like affection, it is something a woman can't be without or do without . . . and live normally and happily. And it is one of beauty's roots.

Of course, the beauty-wise, modern-minded woman walks up to a beauty counter and has her special shade . . . for her and her alone . . . blended before her very eyes from a host of colors sifted and mixed in a way which has made the sponsoring beauty house one of the most famous of the top cosmetic lines. That's feeding the complexion with approximate perfection.

BE SURPRISED AND PLEASED

If you don't already know about this method . . . treat yourself to this tempting facial dish and be appropriately surprised and pleased . . . beyond all expectations. If you do . . . and you know the implied goodness whereof we speak . . . initiate your friends and relatives. Not by the spoken word . . . but by a more tangible means that will speak more volumes than all your voiced praise. Give them an individual gift that tops all remembrances for specific individuality . . . give them an empty box!

That's what we said . . . an empty box, lushly wrapped, that's the most personal present imaginable. For when the lucky recipient gets it . . . she'll take it to the local consultant of this beauty house and have it filled to suit her own specifications . . . the tone for her skintone.

It's a delicious experience to have something made-to-order . . . makes a woman feel wonderfully privileged and important . . . which is exactly what a Christmas should do. Then, too when the giftee has her face powder box filled according to her own prescription . . . she'll also be entitled to a complimentary skin analysis . . . something every woman should have.

You don't have to do any shopping, sizing, matching, hemming or hawing. Just count up the women's names on your list . . . order an equal number of these luxurious "empties" and throw your troubles away. You're even spared the bother of gift-wrapping. The gift powder box looks if it just arrived by courier from Paris . . . handsomely bound in special gift paper and green ribbons and emblazoned with an impressive gold foil seal. And attached to it also is a gift tab with "to" and "from."

For the name of this personalized face-powder blend, or the luxurious "empty" for individual gifting, pass the Beauty Dept. Liberty 2-4000, any day except Sunday, or write to me, care of the Boston American, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Now, names with eligible daughters will know how to gown their darling daughter favored with an invitation to the Hasty Pudding show to be presented this month.

Al Winslow, of Washington, declaimed that the fashion authorities were carrying sophistication in dress too far. He liked young-looking frocks.

Tom Zinsner of Bryn Mawr, who plays the "femme" role in the Pudding show, voted for the strapless ballet dress in brown satin and defended his choice as striking with plenty of "oomph."

Courtney Crandall of Winchester, who wrote the show's music, thinks the "new look" is a very lovely, but not so lovely on the checkbook. "I'm married, you see."

Good-looking John Munroe, publicity director of the show,

WIDE LOW NECK, on the spring fashion agenda, steals a march in this black tissue faille social-hour dress . . . an Eddie Rubenstein original for Crestlee. A brilliant gold oversized bow knot bodice motif . . . accentuating the new neckline . . . dramatizes the otherwise simple dress . . . its skirt, a whirling 'round and 'round affair. In junior sizes only . . . it is designed for the youthful figure of any age, however. It represents a whole lot of fashion to retail under $30.—R. M.

The boys voted two to one in favor of ankle-length date dresses, stated black as their color choice, and agreed that girls should know their type before going whole-hog for the new and newer look. They outlawed fussy-looking clothes definitely.

Ted Alegritti, Harvard's best actor (he plays the leading role in the show), also won the prize for coming close to guessing the ingredients of the famous Hasty Pudding, served as dessert for the luncheon which preceded the precedent-shattering fashion show.

And while it may not be fashion, the ingredients for the famous pudding include eggs, ginger, molasses, brown sugar, milk, corn meal, nutmeg and salt.

50 Collins to Keep Yanks in Boston; That H. C. Spirit

By JACK CONWAY

Even though the financial loss of the Yanks for the season will run close to the $100,000 mark, Ted Collins has no intention of doing a George Marshall and taking his valuable franchise to another city. Collins made his position clear to the 25,000 persons at Fenway Park as the Yanks closed their season here with a 27 to 24 victory over the Redskins when it was announced that holders of season tickets could have the same seats in 1948.

The Yanks closed their season in impressive style as Frank (Boley) Dancewicz beat Sammy Baugh in a battle of forward passes. It was one of the most wide open football games played in New England this season, and it furnished plenty of thrills for the spectators.

Clippie Smith has done a good job with the Yanks. He took an ordinary club which only had a few outstanding stars and developed it to a point where it won its last two games over strong opposition, the Eagles and Redskins. The forward passing of Dancewicz was a powerful factor in each triumph.

The public has finally accepted the professional game as being vastly superior to the college brand of football. Professional football players like professional hockey stars, do not make a single unnecessary move. They play hard, clean football, and usually give an abundance of action.

Professional clubs have placed great emphasis on forward passing. This is the reason top teams cannot be counted out until the final whistle blows. Much of the success of the Redskins has been due to Baugh's amazing ability at throwing forward passes.

Ted Collins was unsuccessful in his efforts to secure Angelo Bertelli for his forward passing attack, but he did land Dancewicz, another former Notre Dame star. Dancewicz showed good all-round football ability in his games with the Yanks this season. He proved he could run with the ball as well as toss touchdown passes.

Denis Delaney, Swede Nelson and the other Yanks royal rooters can look ahead to 1948 with a feeling of confidence as a result of what Clippie Smith's club did against the Eagles and the Redskins.

Delaney, Nelson and other football enthusiasts have an opportunity to get into a huddle when the Gridiron Club makes its annual award of the "Bull Lowe" trophy at its dinner on Wednesday night. Coach Adam Walsh of Bowdoin College, All-America center when at Notre Dame, will be the principal speaker.

Holy Cross Had Speed, Spirit and Timing

The Holy Cross football team that handed Boston College such a decisive defeat had speed, spirit and timing. While "Ox" DaGrosa tendered his resignation to the athletic authorities at Holy Cross the Monday before the game, he did not let up in his efforts to place a winning team on the field against BC.

It was evident in the first five minutes of play that HC had the better football team and that it would not experience much difficulty winning. With Bob Sullivan topping the list, the HC players were alert, aggressive and quick to take advantage of every situation.

When moving around the field, the HC players acted as if they liked playing football. This was very noticeable as the clubs changed goals at the end of the third period. The HC team raced down to the opposite end of the field, fresh and confident. If one had been shown pictures of the rival eleven at this stage of the game, without a football being in sight, one could easily have told which team was winning.

BC had a big, powerful line, but it was slow and sluggish. It did not give the backs the kind of support necessary for a team to win a major game against a perfectly coached opponent.

HC teams always rise to their greatest heights when they battle BC and the outfit coached by DaGrosa was no exception. DaGrosa will have some pleasant memories of his "farewell as a head football coach."

Joey Angelo of Providence, who has a victory to his credit over Jack Weber of Pawtucket, will give Dennis Patrick Brady of New York plenty of opposition in their ten-round bout at the Garden tonight. Angelo is under the management of Phil Buccola who recently won the New England middleweight title with Ralph Zaneli who defeated Al (Red) Priest. Angelo is a fast, shifty boxer and he can hit hard. Brady has scored recent wins here over Weber and Buddy Hayes.

Tommy Collins of the South End, who meets Earl Royal of Bristol, Ct. on the same card in a 12-round bout for the New England bantamweight title, is one of the most promising young boxers in the East.

Gus Mell withdrew from his bout with Freddy Archer and Richard Polite of New Orleans and Bill Kearns of Hartford have been substituted. The other ten, which will feature "Spider" Armstrong against Hubert Gagnier, should be a spirited affair.

Money-Hungry Browns To Sell Jeff Heath, Early

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 1 (AP)—The St. Louis Browns, richer by $425,000 following four startling transactions, sought more gold today, dangling such tasty bait as outfielder Jeff Heath and catcher Jake Early among other front-line players.

"MERRY CHRISTMAS, JOEY" . . . Phil Rizzuto gives ball and bat to little Joey Rizzuto, 7, leukemia victim. Joey, no relation to Yanks shortstop, may not live till Christmas.

Among the first to arrive for the annual minor league convention which gets under way Wednesday, the Browns' delegation of general manager Bill DeWitt, his brother, Charles, secretary of the club, and Zach Taylor, the new manager, already have set up shop in one of this winter's resort's leading hotels.

Bill DeWitt made it plain that others of last season's squad which finished a dismal last in the American League race are certain to follow Vern Stephens, Jack Kramer and others who made Thanksgiving merry for St. Louis stockholders, financially speaking.

"We are not through trading by any means," DeWitt said. "We are prepared to trade anybody on our roster if we feel those deals will improve the club."

"We are determined to field a young speedy, hustling team next year. Except for pitchers Nelson Potter and Clem Dreisewer, whom we obtained from the Red Sox, all players will be under 29 years of age. Unless we get stupendous offers, we will build our team around such speedsters as third baseman Bob Dillinger and outfielders Paul Lehner and Al Zarilla."

DeWitt was not the only would-be David Harum at the minor leagues' show, which attracted such big time pilots as Mel Ott of the New York Giants; Joe McCarthy, Red Sox; Johnny Neun, Cincinnati Reds; Bill Meyer, Pittsburgh Pirates, and Bucky Harris of the Yankees.

Robert E. Hannagan, who recently purchased the St. Louis Cardinals, was one of the early arrivals. Also here were Horace Stoneham, Giants; George Weiss, Yankees; John Quinn, Boston Braves; Warren Giles, Cincinnati Reds; Joe Cronin, Red Sox; Roy Hamey, Pirates; Herb Pennock, Phillies, and Billy Evans, Detroit Tigers.

Ott said the Giants had two deals on the fire, for a pitcher and an outfielder. Weiss, general manager of the Yankees, said he would not be forced into any swaps but admitted the Yanks are after another pitcher.

Lujack Tops INS All-America

By LAWTON CARVER

NEW YORK, Dec. 1 (INS)—All four of the nation's undefeated and untied powerhouses—Notre Dame, Michigan, Penn State and Southern Methodist—are represented on the International News Service All-America football team for 1947.

This combination is big, fast and tough.

The INS squad of three teams presented tonight is sparked by Johnny Lujack, the premier quarterback in the land, and Zigmunt (Zizy) Czabowski, the great tackle—two players who have done so much to carry Notre Dame to a perfect season. No other school placed more than one player on the mythical eleven.

Lujack of Notre Dame was the universal choice as quarterback, and Bob Chappuis, of undefeated Michigan, won a similar honor as a halfback.

There was some division of opinion for the other backfield spots which finally went to Charlie Conerly, of Mississippi, and Don Walker, of Southern Methodist, the latter the only sophomore on the team.

That first team backfield moved some of the great players of the season off of the first team and onto the second and third teams. The same applies to the linemen.

In contrast to the balance in favor of the East on the first team, other sectors dominated the second and third teams. Back to the first team, the ends are Paul Cleary of Southern California, and Bill Swiacki, of Columbia.

Cleary is regarded as the best and on the Pacific Coast since before the war. Swiacki is rated as the greatest end catcher in or out of pro football and the best end in Columbia University history.

The tackles are Bob Davis, the strapping and rough fellow from Georgia Tech, and Zizy Czabowski of Notre Dame, the latter one of the finest tackles ever to play for the Irish.

Steve Suhey, of Penn State, picked at one guard, is best described by scouts' reports as follows:

Penn State's success is based on the strength between the tackles and especially on Suhey's side of the line.

The other guard is Joe Steffy of West Point, who has been a football giant during a mediocre Army season.

Charles Bednarik, Penn. at center, has been praised on every hand by the professionals as one of the truly great linemen in college football today. He's built for it—6 feet, 3 and 220 pounds.

Rowan All-America Bid May Have Come Too Late

By FRANK LEAHY

Head Coach, Notre Dame University

Any All-America selections sent to Memphis papers devoid of Rip Rowan's name will be tossed into the sports editor's scrap basket as rank Yankee propaganda. Rip's performance in pacing Army to a 21-0 victory over Navy in Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium stamped him as All-American in the hearts of every Tennessean.

Looking at it realistically, however, Rowan's command performance before President Truman, and Army and Navy leaders, came just a little too late. More than 100,000 diversely partisan fans witnessed his spectacular 92-yard run for one touchdown and his arrowy pass for another. But they came as the regular season ended and, unfortunately for Rip, All-America selections are fairly set by that time.

Anyway it was a grand performance by both Rowan and the entire Army team. Navy failed to score, but Tom Hamilton's lads left no doubt that it had been a football contest. Red Blaik did a splendid job of bringing his boys up for the colorful contest.

You know, these final games of the regular season can be, and usually are, filled with every tincture of color and drama. Take Holy Cross' upset 20-6 triumph over Boston College, and West Virginia's 17-2 victory over dead-game, but long suffering Pitt.

The coaches of both victorious teams had resigned. Their lads were playing final games for John DaGrosa of Holy Cross and Bill Kern of the Mountaineers. So the boys went out there and won for their departing coaches. That is the spirit that makes football such a grand pastime.

Southern Methodist discovered that anyone who goes to the well too often may end up with a leaky bucket or at least a sore back. Their perfect record of nine games without tie or defeat was spoiled by a fighting Texas Christian team who earned a 19-19 tie. S. M. U. might have gone into the Cotton Bowl game against Penn State with a defeat had not Doak Walker, All-American any way you look at him, run and passed them to a tie. Georgia Tech's Orange Bowl-bound Engineers won the contest that starts next to the memory of Jeff Davis in the hearts of every Georgian by beating Wally Butts' Bulldogs, 7-0. Red Patton's 13-yard pass to George Broadnax was the victory margin.

Charley Conerly went to town in leading Mississippi to a 33-14 victory over Mississippi State, and Bobby Forbes did likewise in pacing Florida to a 25-7 triumph over Kansas State. So did Dick Gray in Oregon State's 27-6 victory over Nebraska.

We have been the victim of a dastardly plot. While our back was turned preparing the Irish for next Saturday's game against Southern California, some culprit blew smoke on our crystal ball. For that reason we were able to pick only ten winners last Saturday against three losses and two ties for a season's total of 228 wins, 73 wrong guesses and 13 ties.

We are offering a rare old print of Toots Shork shaking hands with Lindy for the apprehension of the smoke-blowing culprit.

Wins Trophy

Bobby Sullivan of North Andover, Mass., co-captain and tailback of the Holy Cross Crusaders, was adjudged the winner of the Capt. Edward J. O'Melia Trophy, awarded annually by the Holy Cross Club of Boston to the outstanding player of the Holy Cross-Boston College football game.

The trophy, an inscribed watch, will be presented Sullivan at a dinner to be held by the Holy Cross Club of Boston in the Harvard Club, January 8.

Sullivan was the unanimous choice of the committee of Boston sports writers and radio broadcasters who made the selection. He is the third Holy Cross player to win the trophy. Jim Dieckelmann was the winner in 1945 and Walter Sheridan in 1946.

The selection committee comprised Joe Cashman, Record; Wil Cloney, Herald; Jack Conway, Advertiser; Bob Coyne, Post; Bill Grimes, American; Gerry Herr Post; Jerry Nason, Globe; Arthur Siegel, Traveler; Jim Britt WHDH; Chuck Crosby, WCOP; Frank Fallon, WMEX; Bump Hadley, WBZ and Lester Smith, WNAC.

MISS PAULA KANN executes a kick-turn in skiing while "Top" Goodenough watches.

To execute the kick-turn to the right, stand on level ground, with both skis parallel, twisting the body to the right, and placing the poles in back of the left ski for support. Next, raise the right ski—as demonstrated by Paula Kain in the above photo—and allow it to drop, the tip heading in the opposite direction.

You will now find yourself in a rather awkward position — but don't hesitate; simply lift the left skd, turning its tip in the same direction as the right one. Both boards will then be parallel again, and you will have completed the "About Face" of sking.

Walking on skis should also be practiced a great deal. Relax, bend the knees, slide one ski well ahead of the other, then push with the opposite pole. Soon you'll be doing the one, two and three-step on the hickories.

Schmidt, Henderson Lost as Bruins Tie

By BILL GRIMES

It cost the Bruins the services of Milt Schmidt and Murray Henderson to get a scoreless tie—and one point—with the Toronto Maple Leafs last night at the Garden.

The game was a typical Boston-Toronto affair. It was a close checking, rugged game all the way. But, Referee "Butch" Keeling called only seven penalties, four against the Leafs and three against the Bruins. He could have handed out many more. He allowed altogether too many board checks and obvious holdings to go unnoticed.

Schmidt and Henderson, who are very important cogs in the Bruins' machine, were injured in the third period. At 7:28, Bill Barilko, Toronto's young defenseman, charged into Schmidt and crashed the Bruin star against the fence. It's a wonder Milt didn't break the dasher.

Schmidt limped across the ice for first aid treatment from Win Green. Later, he attempted to play again but was obliged to quit. After the game, Dr. Thomas A. Kelley stated that, although it was too early to be certain, he believes "Schmidt" has a broken ligament in his left knee. And, if that diagnosis is correct, Schmidt will be lost for weeks. He will be X-rayed tomorrow and the good or bad news will be known by Wednesday.

A couple of weeks, "Moe" Henderson was forced out of the lineup with a shoulder separation. He wasn't expected to play for another week. But, when Dr. Kelley refused to O.K. Jack Crawford last night, Henderson decided to dress, hoping that his presence would help break the three-game losing streak.

Despite the fact that he had been out for more than a fortnight, Henderson was playing exceptionally well. With only a few minutes remaining in the third period, Henderson and Jimmy Thomson raced for the puck, which was at the boards on the Bruins' end. Henderson saw his opponent coming, but he felt that he had to beat him to the disc. Well, they crashed against the dasher. Henderson rebounded off the fence and landed on his back. The contact with the barrier was made by Henderson's bad shoulder and another separation resulted. And, it will be weeks before he will be able to play.

The Bruins have encountered too many injuries of late. The loss of Schmidt and Henderson is a tough break, in view of the fact that the Bruins have three more home games this week. They're listed to take on the Blackhawks on Wednesday and they'll have the Rangers and Canadiens as their guests on Saturday and Sunday, respectively.

There isn't a club in the league strong enough to lose stars of the Schmidt and Henderson specie and retain its top form.

Fortunately, Jack Crawford will be ready for the Blackhawks. But, he hasn't skated for a week and will not be able to until game time Wednesday.

Brimsek Has Brilliant Night

Connie Smythe is doing a little scouting. He came down from Toronto with the Maple but, instead of coming here, he went to New Haven. He is considering bringing up Tod Sloan and Les Costello, a pair of young wingmen, and play them with Max Bentley.

George Owen, the former Harvard and Bruins defenseman, sat in on last night's game.

The Maple Leafs remained in town last night but they will be on their way to New York this afternoon. Hal Ballard, "Red" Burnett, Bobby Hewitson, Jim Vipond and Ed Fitkin were among the "tourists" making the trip.

Frank J. Selke, general manager of Les Canadiens, announced in Toronto Saturday, that construction on his new rink in Cincinnati starts today. Selke has been working on this project for more than three years. The Cincinnati team will join the American Hockey League.

Frankie Brimsek turned in another wonderful performance last night. The Maple Leafs had so much of an edge on the Bruins that "Brimmy" had to make 26 saves to Walter "Turk" Broda's 15. The Bruins would be in a bad way but for the fact that Frank Brimsek has returned to his pre-war form.

In view of the fact that he was playing his first NHL game of the season, Paul Ronty, who was brought up from Hershey, did a pretty good job last night, during the few times he was in action. And, he'll show to better advantage as soon as he gets the "feel" of big time hockey.

Now, the Maple Leafs have played 13 games here without breaking into the win column. Their last triumph at the Garden was on March 6, 1945.

Pat Egan and Fernie Flamon didn't play any favorites last night. They handed out body checks to every Leaf they were able to contact. Late in the third period, Flamon unloaded on Vic Lynn and the Toronto wing hit the deck with terrific force.

Due to a shortage of manpower caused by injuries, the Bruins have only ties with Les Canadiens and Toronto to show for their last five games. And, as a result, they have dropped back into third place in the NHL standings.

Generous Pics Loan 3 Players; Settle for Tie

Probably the screwiest arrangement ever effected in local hockey, pro or amateur, boomeranged yesterday afternoon at the Boston Garden and the Boston Olympics were the victims. The final score of the game was 5-5.

The Atlantic City Sea Gulls came here for their game with the Pics. The visitors were shy three players. Generous Coach Hago Harrington of the Pics informed the Gulls they could use three of his surplus players.

The players were Bob Newton, Fred Denny and Jack Laplante. Newton and Denny scored for the Gulls against their mates.

It appears the Pics have two teams, one for the road and the other at home. The three players recently imported from Canada, were due to join the road team. Harrington may have other plans after the superb game these kids showed as fillers-in.

54 Yanks Wind Up Here But Team's Future Is Bright

By SAM BROGNA

Boston's grid Yanks bid farewell to their 1947 home campaign but it was far from the "good-by" to the pro game here that many football addicts envisioned only a short while back.

Owner Ted Collins lost another bundle of cash even though the Yanks have two more games to play on the road, but he'll be back for sure next fall. His bankroll has been taking a sizeable cut since he brought the club here in 1944, but for the first time, his future has taken a turning point for the better.

It's true, Boston fans will support only a winner. This has been proved down through the years. The local gentry like to sit in only when a winner is performing.

Well, next year seems to be the year New England grid fans have been waiting for. The team that Clipper Smith has led to its best season will be around next fall. It's the same club that bowed out its home schedule with an impressive 27-24 Sunday win over Sammy Baugh and the Washington Redskins.

A paid attendance of 24,800 frozen spectators took in that clash. Many of them were around the week before when the Yanks slaughtered the Philadelphia Eagles. And many of 'em were in the stands a month ago when the Clipper's gridgers nearly upset the Chicago Bears.

All were convinced that at long last the Yanks can stand up to the big league competition warranted in this pro game. The team, closing with a rush, is the youngest in the National League. With the exception of a few changes that will take place by the time they are ready to make their 1948 debut, the same gridmen who climaxed the home season, will be back.

The Washington-Yanks game bore fruit to George Marshall's earlier statement that this contest would be a preview of the '48 fight for Eastern Division leadership. He pointed out that these clubs are the youngest squads in the league and that both have become standout November ball teams, the "Skins by wrecking the Chicago Cards and the Yanks by skinning the Eagles proved these factors.

Although the season has two more games to go for the Yanks, at Pittsburgh next Sunday and Washington the following week, the locals have already won more games than in any other year since they started. They now have a slate of four won and five lost with one tie thrown in. If they can cop their remaining two contests, they will have attained an all-time high.

They have solidified their hold onto third place by pulling a game and a half away from Washington.

The Yanks now hold decisions over the Giants, Rams, Eagles and Redskins and one tie with the Giants.

Sunday's game followed the pattern of the Yanks' previous tilt of the past month. It was a good game to watch from the spectators' viewpoint even though the weather reached the refrigeration point.

The Hub gridgers played a front-running game all the way. They fell behind twice, by the good graces of the officials, but they came roaring back to regain the lead.

Frank Maznicki's opening period field goal with seconds to go, was the deciding factor. But it was the throwing arm of Boley Dancewicz that was largely responsible for the grand triumph.

The great Sammy Baugh, playing his 11th year with the Redskins, connected for 14 consecutive completions and hit 21 of 29

Season Opens Here With Deer Said to Be Plentiful

Scores of Bay State deer hunters were out at dawn this frosty morn, hoping to bag a nice buck on the opening day of the Massachusetts six-day season. The limit, as all should know, is one deer per gunner.

The fleet white-tailed animals are said to be plentiful this fall, particularly in the Berkshire regions. A light cover of snow in that section should prove helpful to the nimrods, the powder well-stippled with tracks.

Henry P. Davis, expert of the Remington Arms Co., has some good hints for hunters. Says he: "First and foremost of all tips on deer hunting is to be sure of your target! Most gunners are prone to make snap-shots. It is better to hesitate for a fraction of a second, making sure that your quarry is not a cow or calf—or even another hunter!"

"In still hunting," he adds, "go slowly. Be sure of your footing before each step. If you are placed on a stand, STAY THERE! If you move away, that is when Mr. Buck will choose to come strolling by. . . . And when you do get a shot, try hard to make it good. Try to put your bullet, slug, or buckshot in the chest area, the closer to the heart the better."

"If you should cripple a deer," continues Davis, "stay on the trail until you get him, even if you have to wait until the next day."

Body heat spoils the meat. It's best to have a guide or a pal to help you carry out your deer."

Deer hunting opens in New Hampshire today, as well. . . . The Bear Brook Reservation, at Allenstown, has been reserved for the use of bows and arrows only. These weapons call for the utmost skill, and are very sporting.

Chippewas Win Crown

The Chippewas of South Boston emerged with a 13 to 0 victory over the tough American Legion Post 44 squad of Roxbury at South Boston Stadium before 18,000 chilled and orderly fans yesterday afternoon. Along with the victory went the title of "champs" of the Park League.

The Chippewas who earned the right to compete in the 18th annual Park League finals via a very widely disputed victory last week, which netted them just enough points to nose out St. Lazarus H. N. S. of East Boston and the Walsh Legion Post of Dorchester and thus the National division title.

The Chippewas kicked off to the Legionnaires and on their first play, McMahon intercepted a pass and the Chippies took over on the 33 and were immediately tabbed with a 15-yard penalty. The setback meant little to the National champs as Jake Jackowicz let loose with a pass to Jimmy McCourt which brought them to the two. Roy Clover hit the line on the next play and the men of Southie were out in front. Jake Jackowicz split the uprigits to register the point-after.

The battle swayed back and forth as a result of many fumbles which can be credited to the cold weather and a slippery gridiron until the crowd was brought to its feet by a dazzling play. Midway through the second period, the Chippewas kicked out to the 35 where Chuck Connors' boys of Post 44 put the ball in action.

On the sparkling play, Tom Brooks faded back to chuck a pass but the "Chipp" line broke through and were about to smother the passer when he lateraled to Jackie Brennan who flipped the pigskin to Buddy Watson down on the 10-yard line. This proved all in vain as another attempted pass was intercepted by Zanghi and the Chippewas were in the driver's seat again. This was the only time that the "Post" boys were a scoring threat.
